About AI

AI is artificial Intelligence. It is making computers Intelligent and capable of making logical decisions from facts provided to us just as humans. It is the concept of making Computers similar to humans.Just the concept of making computers as smart as humans may sound like science fiction but it is essentially what makes it so interesting.

Here we will be discussing the concepts such as supervised learning, unsupervised learning and reinforcement learning. This is the future and is as revolutionary as electricity.